Logan, November 4-3m

WILL FRASH.

The poor man of this city must have when the Council orders him to, but the rich man will have when he gets ready. There is a difference.

Capt. Georgia Hartinger of the Salvation Army was presented with a handsome Bible by the new members of the Army, on last Tuesday night. [Nelsonville News]

We think the town Council should furnish the gas lamp lighter with an almanac. The ordinance provides that the gas shall be lit in the dark of the moon. The lamp lighter don't seem to be posted on the "dark of the moon." Give him an almanac to light by and a lantern to find them when he goes to putting out.

The question is just this: Is there a single member of the Council, who, after entering into a written agreement with a man, should find that the terms of the contract had been frequently violated, would allow it to stand without protest, especially when it was an injury to himself? The Council is the guardian of the Corporation's interests and that should not be forgotten.

The present Council is accredited with being one of the best within the history of the town, but it should not expend all of its wrath on the present owner of the old engine house. It should reserve a part for those property owners who refuse to pave. It may be the duty of the Council to remove that house by law, if it need be, and it may be a duty to compel the owner to pave certain streets in town. Gentlemen, we would insist that the dignity of the Council be recognized, not on one occasion, but at all times.

When it became known that Capt. Davenport, of the Gazette, had been burglarized on Sunday night, it was supposed that his button-hole bouquet, sun umbrella and local items taken from the Sentinel, were articles the thief coveted, and a general feeling of sympathy pervaded so society at Mr. Davenport's loss. But later in the day, when it was learned that the thief only wanted his pocket-book, supreme disgust depicted every countenance for a thief who would rob a local editor.

It is generally supposed that the alleged burglar is an escapee from the penitentiary, because any burglar of sense knows it would break him him up to burglarize Davenport.

Court Common Pleas. There has been nothing in Court of interest the past week, excepting the coal slack case, mention of which is made in another column of this issue of the Sentinel.

The mysteries of editorial action concerning volunteer contributions are clearly explained in the editors Easy Chair of Harper's Magazine for December. A paragraph in the Boston Herald ascribing the difficulty of gaining an entrance into the great magazines to "the literary gang" brings forth a long and contentious reply from the editor of Harper's Magazine, which the Easy Chair quotes in full. The array of aspiring authors will gain some valuable information there pertaining to the methods of editorial judgement and the reasons why their MSS. are generally returned as "unavailable."

Scribner's Magazine, PUBLISHED MONTHLY, WITH ILLUSTRATIONS.

First No. Ready Dec. 1 5th.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY will be in the widest sense a magazine of general literature, and each number will be fully illustrated.

Some of the most notable papers to appear during the first year of this new publication will be a series of Unpublished Letters of Thackeray of very great autobiographical value; ex-Minister E. B. Washburn's Reminiscences of the Siege and Commune of Paris; Glances at the Diaries of Gouverneur Morris; Minister to France at the close of the last century (giving descriptions of social life and character at the time); a collection of contemporary letters describing Early New York and New England Society.

There is much excellent fiction, including a serial by Harold Frederic; stories extending through several numbers by H. C. Bunner, J. S. Dale, and others; and short stories by R. L. Stevenson, Joel Chandler Harris, T. A. Janvier, Miss Jewett, Octave Thomet, H. H. Boyesen, Miss Crosby, and a host of others.

Notable special papers to be published very early are General F. A. Walker's on Socialism; Dr. William Hayes Ward's on Babylonian Cylinders; Mr. John C. Ropes's on the Portraits of Caesar; Captain Greene's on Coast Defense, etc., etc.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE will be published at $3.00 a year, or 25 cents a copy. Subscriptions may be sent to any newsdealer or bookseller, or
